Cold Weather Disrupts Electric Service Monday

The sudden onslaught of cold and a mechanical defect that caused wire to be weakened, resulting in contraction of a conductor and the breaking of a line on Thompson road near the McHenry county border, was what disrupted electric light and power service in he Antioch area Monday evening around 6:30 o'clock, according to George Joedicke, district manager for the Illinois Public Service company.

While housewives scurried around for candles and garage doors and electrically operated machinery rested idle, minutes by switching to other feeder which they had skidded.

A repair crew hastily dispatched by 4-H Members Are the Public Service company of Northern Illinois repaired the break within a short time.

Eighth Grade Pupils Guests of Woman's Club at Meeting

Eighth grade pupils were guests of the Antioch Woman's club for an illustrated lecture, "Over the Andes," given by John Hunter, traveler and business and law expert, at a meeting held by the club Monday afternoon in the Grade school.

Twenty-three members of the club were present to hear Mr. Hunter's talk, which proved educational as well as highly interesting.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mmes. Earl Hays, W. H. Osmond, John Horan and H. LaTan.

Ur. Zimmerman Leaves for Army Service

Antioch Dentist, 1st Lieut. in Medical Corps, Volunteers for Service

Called into active service for an indefinite period of time, Dr. L. John Zimmerman, Antioch dentist and a First Lieutenant in the medical reserve corps of the U. S. army, reported project in the Chicago territory. Tuesday at Camp McCoy, Sparta, dental work in the large camp of the Cirlian conservation corps established there in connection with Camp Mc-

It is assumed that Dr. Zimmerman will be in the service for at least a year though the length of his service has not been determined, neither is it certain that he will remain at Sparta for the entire period.

Dr. Zimmerman has been a member of the U.S. Army reserve corps for 18 years. He volunteered his services at this time because he felt there is a need for his services. All of the more than 100,000 reserves, Dr. Zimmerman says, expect to render patriotic service to their country when need for service arises. He is in line for promotion in the medical corps. During his absence from his practice here, Dr. L. V. Madden, long time friend of Dr. Zimmerman, will spend three days a week in Antioch, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

When his lease expires in Chicago he plans to move his family to Antioch.

A passenger plane on route for New Former Lake VIIIa Pastor Now in Welfare Work in Sioux City, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kelly and their daughter, Lillian, of Lake Villa returned home Friday evening from Sioux City, Iowa, where they were the guests of the Rev. and Mrs. I. B. Allen, former pastor of the Lake Villa Community church. Mr. Kelly reports that the Rev. Allen, who is pastor of a Methodist mission in Sioux City, handles nearly 150 cases every week through the Mission, and that it takes three recreational leaders, a librarian and a deaconess working full time to supervise the big program.

The Mission, located in the slums of the city, is surrounded by some 2000 people crowded into approximately seven square blocks. Many of these people live in tin or tarpaper shacks and depend upon relief support for a living. The Mission is open seven days a week, supports a gymnasium, recreational room, library, nursery, and Red Cross Chairman Church of All Nations. Eighteen or twenty different nationalities take part in the program.

Rev. Allen was pastor of the Lake Villa church for three years before going to Sioux City last September. He is a graduate of Simpson college and Music under the direction of Hans Garrett Biblical Institute, having finished his course there last spring. Says a Sioux City newspaper commenting upon Rev. Allen's work: "He comes with a background of experience and is anxious for his work. We wel-

Left in Dark - But It's Not For Long

Thirty-five members of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club prepared to eat their dinner by candle light when electric power and lights failed in Antioch Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Assembling by the light of hastily gathered candles placed in improvised candlesticks in the home of Mrs. H. B. Gaston, the hungry would-be-diners were deterred only by the non-arrival of Mrs. C. E. Hennings, who was to bring the baked ham, piece de resistance of the meal.

Twenty minutes of anticipation, hesi tation, cogitation and determination ensued, and then-the lights went on, went off-and went on again, this time to stay. The ham, a particularly luscious one, was hastily conveyed from the Hennings residence where it had been watched with loving care while it was cooking, to the Gaston homeand the dinner was on. H. B. Gaston was an honorary guest, and offered to become an honorary member if the club would guarantee that all its meals would be equally good.

After a brief business session, the neeting was turned over by the president, Mrs. Vera Rentner, to Mrs. Charles N. Lux, program chairman. Under Mrs. Lux' charge, a Christ-

A Significant Tribute

Many of those in a position to know the facts of the case have paid tribute to industry's role in the defense program in recent months. Chiefly, this praise has come from military, naval, and governmental leaders, right up to and including the President himself.

Now, from another and a very important source, come some words which clearly illuminate the place of industry in the present picture of things. The source in question is Milo J. Warner, National Commander of the American Legion, who spoke at the recent solemn ceremonies at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. Mr. Warner said in one part of this address:

"I know that industry-having long since pledged itself to full cooperation of its skill and resources in mass production for national defense—has and it is today, fulfilling these pledges.

ranks of industry, I believe industry itself—the self ex- vate enterprise system, strikes at individual savings—it amining and public conscious industry that we have in capital.

America today-will hunt them out, smoke them out, and expose them."

Surely here is a warm and glowing word of tribute from a leader of a great and patriotic group in America. It should give all citizens of this country new faith in the success, not only of our efforts toward defense, but just as important, our efforts to reach the mutual underctanding and respect among groups which must form the basis of any sound society.

What Is Capitalism?

The head of one of America's largest banks recently had this to say concerning capitalism: "Business must have capital. What is capital? Savings. Whose savings? The people's, yours, your friends, your neighbors.

"Everyone who saves something from his earnings and puts that money to work, or has it put to work for him, is a capitalist,

"That is the American way, the way in which America has been built. Capitalism is democracy-at work." That's simple, and it's sound. Capitalism is a term too often used to mislead the uninformed and create political discord. The truth is that capital is the collective invested savings of millions of people-the man with a hundred dollars, the woman with five hundred.

That's what the capital in the nation's banks consists of. The average bank deposit is small. But put "The with of the matter is that American Industrial millions of those accounts together and you get real progress has been built on America at peace, not on money—the money that goes to build homes, to start America at war. A GOOD NEIGHBOR

LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:25-37.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.—Luke 10:27.

What shall I do? These words fall from the lips or pass through the minds of millions of men and women each day.

Never does the question go more deeply than when it concerns man's eternal welfare, as it does in our lesson. Always the question indicates that man is not able to decide for himself, and needs the guidance of someone greater and wiser than he. It should lead us back to God, for only He can fully answer it. The good neighbor story 'our Lord tells us

I. What to Do to Have Eternal Life (vv. 25-28).

The lawyer (a student of the law of Moses and hence a theologian rather than an attorney) was posing a question to try to entrap Jesus. He was apparently not much concerned about eternal life and assumed that it could be obtained by doing something. We know that eternal life is a gift (John 1:12; Religious Rom. 6:23), but if the man wanted to have it by doing, Jesus was ready to meet him. In response to Jesus' question (v. 26) the lawyer gave Him what the Jews regarded as the summary of the whole law.

The man who can perfectly keep that law will have eternal life, declares Jesus. But note that you must do it, not just talk about it... And you must keep the whole law, "for whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he is become guilty of all" (James 2:10, R. V.; see also Gal. 3:10). We see then

II. Why It Cannot Be Done by Man

The lawyer's effort to justify himself by diverting attention to the word "neighbor," which he felt Chevrolet garage by the Antioch Fireneeded definition, showed that he men. uld not do the thing expected of him. The reason for man's failure Methodist church. lies primarily in his own weakness and inability to do what God re-quires, but is also revealed in his pitiable and futile efforts to justify

The one who seeing his sinfulness and his utter inability to keep God's law casts himself on the Lord and is ready to receive the gift of eternal life; but the one who tries to defend his position and justify himself has shut the door on God's grace and mercy (see Luke 18:9-14). Let us see

III. How Christ Does It for and in Man (vv. 30-37).

The parable of the Good Samaritan answers fully and finally the question, "Who is my neighbor?" by making it clear that anyone who is in need, regardless of race, social position, condition or religion, is our neighbor. The priest and the Levite doubtless had plenty of excuses for not helping the wounded man, but let us remember that excuses, while they may count with men, mean only our condemnation in the presence of God.

It was the spirit of Christ that made the Samaritan show a compassionate and sacrificial interest in the needy man. Only Christ can make you and me like that; His love in the heart is the only "good neighbor program" that will ever

But Christ not only enables man to be a good neighbor, He is in fact the true Good Neighbor Himself; He is the Good Samaritan. "Jerusalem is the city of God; Jericho represents the world. The traveler is the type of humanity. Man has fallen in the awful road which leads down; fellen among this world." fallen among thieves and is naked, wounded, helpless and hopeless. The failure of the priest and the scribe to help illustrates the inability of the law and the ordinances to save man out of his deplorable condi-tion. The Good Samaritan is the Lord Jesus Christ. He came to the place where the lost are and He alone could have compassion on them. The wine typifies His pre-clous blood He shed to save us. The oil is the type of the Holy Spirit, who applies the blood. He takes care of faller man found by Christ. The inn is typical of the church, where the Lord through His Spirit cares for His own. The two pence are not typical of two sacraments, but speak of the reward which those receive who under the Holy Spirit care for souls. The promised coming again with a greater reward offered is the second coming of our Lord" (A. C. Gaebelein).

Two truths stand out in our lesson. There is such a thing as being a good neighbor by the grace and blessing of God, and if we are fol-lowers of Christ we should be real neighbors. Then there is the One who is Himself our Friend and Brother, the One of whom we sing: "He washed the bleeding sin wounds And poured in oil and wine:

He whispered to assure me, "I've found thee, thou art Mine." -(A. J. Gordon)

> CHRISTMAS GIFT! The News beautiful sets.

Les, Sir! I'm going to be in Zion this Saturday at 11 o'clock in the Zion Department Store's giant Gulliver Toyland. Say, kiddies, don't miss their nine foot tall Gulliver and all the little Lilliputians you saw in the picture. I'm going to have free candy for all of you. Remember, now, Zion Department Store, this Saturday at 11 o'clock.

Confidentially to the parents: we know that not only the kiddies are going to be in a veritable dreamland, but that parents, too, are going to be fascinated in turn by the children's unspeakable joy!

The Golden Text was, "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isninh 45:22).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospe of peace; Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the flery darts of the wicked. And take the belmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God' (Ephesians 6:11, 14-17)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook. the Christian Science textbook. "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." by Mary Baker Eddy: "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the pan oply of love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity" (p. 571)
